DIRECTOR: Steve Williams

SYNOPSIS:

“The Wild” is an irreverent family comedy about after-hours life in the New York Zoo, where the animals turn the grounds into a raucous party. It tells a story of a father and a son: Samson, the king of the jungle, leader of all beasts; and his son, Ryan, who is at just that age when he feels confined, frustrated and tired of the stories his father tells about the wild...the same stories he used to love as a young cub. On one particular night while the animals are preparing for a championship game of turtle curling, things reached a breaking point between father and son. Samson has no choice but to go after his son...against all odds...like the father in Finding Nemo. Suddenly our pampered passel of zoo animals find themselves in the jungle...the urban jungle.

THE WILD is an adventure you will never forget...like the first time you saw Toy Story...THE WILD will change how you look at the animals in the zoo...forever.
